

5246 CRESTLINE WAY
PLEASANTON, CA 94566
(925) 967-4030

Email: elandhuis@gmail.com
Twitter: @elandhuis
Website: www.estherlandhuis.com

ESTHER WEI-YUN LANDHUIS

San Francisco Bay Area-based longform journalist covering all aspects of biomedicine, from bench research to clinical trials to healthcare

EXPERIENCE

Science and health journalist, freelance

JANUARY 2014 - PRESENT

- Writes features and profiles across range of topics including food allergies, rare diseases, cancer, neurodegenerative disease, immunology, STEM diversity
- Clients include Scientific American, Nature, Undark, NPR, Science News, Science News for Students, Kaiser Health News, Real Simple, Quanta and other national/global outlets

Staff reporter, Alzforum

MAY 2008 - DECEMBER 2013

- Wrote stories about scientific findings and industry news related to Alzheimer's and other neurodegenerative diseases

Science reporting intern, San Jose Mercury News

JULY 2004 - JUNE 2005

- Knight Ridder Specialty Development internship

News reporting intern, Santa Cruz Sentinel

SEPTEMBER 2003 - DECEMBER 2003

EDUCATION

University of California, Santa Cruz

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN SCIENCE WRITING, JUNE 2004

Harvard University

PH.D. IN IMMUNOLOGY, AUGUST 2003

Stanford University

B.S. IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES, JUNE 1996

AWARDS AND AFFILIATIONS

AACR JUNE L. BIEDLER PRIZE FOR CANCER JOURNALISM - MAGAZINE WINNER (2018)

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SCIENCE WRITERS - FREELANCE COMMITTEE MEMBER

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SCIENCE WRITERS ASSOCIATION - MEMBER

ASSOCIATION OF HEALTH CARE JOURNALISTS - MEMBER