

5246 Crestline Way
Pleasanton, CA 94566
(925) 967-4030

elandhuis@gmail.com
@elandhuis
www.estherlandhuis.com

ESTHER WEI-YUN LANDHUIS

EXPERIENCE

Science journalist, freelance

JANUARY 2014 - PRESENT

- Pitches and writes stories across a range of scientific topics from cancer immunotherapy to insect eating to STEM diversity
- Clients include NPR, Scientific American, Nature, Quanta, Chemical & Engineering News, Science News, Science News for Students

Staff reporter, Alzforum

MAY 2008 - DECEMBER 2013

- Wrote stories about scientific findings and industry news related to Alzheimer's and other neurodegenerative diseases

Science/health reporting intern, San Jose Mercury News

JULY 2004 - JUNE 2005

Science writing intern, Science of Aging Knowledge Environment

APRIL 2004 - JUNE 2004

Science writing intern, Stanford News Service

JANUARY 2004 - MARCH 2004

News reporting intern, Santa Cruz Sentinel

SEPTEMBER 2003 - DECEMBER 2003

EDUCATION

University of California, Santa Cruz

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN SCIENCE WRITING (JUNE 2004)

Harvard University

PH.D. IN IMMUNOLOGY (AUGUST 2003)

Stanford University

B.S. IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES (JUNE 1996)

AWARDS AND AFFILIATIONS

AACR JUNE L. BIEDLER PRIZE FOR CANCER JOURNALISM - MAGAZINE WINNER (2018)

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SCIENCE WRITERS - MEMBER

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SCIENCE WRITERS ASSOCIATION - MEMBER

ASSOCIATION OF HEALTH CARE JOURNALISTS - MEMBER